

Figure 4 – The thickness d of the visible segment would tend to zero. But if it reached zero, the Flatlander would be unable to see it. The thickness of the segment would not be perceived until the Flatlander conceives of the third dimension.

