

Figure 3 – Scheme of the magnetic-birefringence-of-the-vacuum experiment. A linearly polarized laser crosses a region of intense magnetic field and acquires an ellipticity that is measured by a high-precision polarimeter.

